Required Financial Documentation for F-1 visa students

In order to receive an I-20 from the ELI, you must submit an original letter from a bank with your current balance or that of your sponsor. The letter should:

- be written in English (or have a certified translation attached)
- be on original bank letterhead (stationery)
- be dated within the past 6 months
- be stamped and signed by a bank official
- show funds that exceed US $18,589. Please make sure the currency type is stated.

Obtain two original letters: send one to the ELI and save the other original letter to take to the U.S. embassy or consulate when you apply for your F-1 visa.

If you are receiving a scholarship, please submit an original award letter with the amount of the award and the length of the support.

Students who will bring dependents must show an additional $3,600 for each dependent. For example, if you come with a spouse and 2 children, you must show at least US $29,389.

If you will have a sponsor, your sponsor must sign this Affidavit of Support:

Affidavit of Support

I, _____(sponsor's name), agree to be responsible for all English Language Institute costs and living expenses for _____(student's full name) to study in the English Language Institute at Savannah State University. I have read the information about the cost of the program and promise to provide US $ _____ for this student's studies. I also certify that the financial documentation provided is genuine.

This section must be signed only by the bank account holder.
