SACSCOC Reaffirmation of Accreditation Review

All institutions accredited by SACSCOC are required to undergo a review for reaffirmation of accreditation every ten years. After being granted initial accreditation by the Commission, new member institutions will be reviewed for reaffirmation of accreditation after five years, then every ten years thereafter. The Commission's reviews of institutions between decennial reaffirmation reviews in accordance with policies governing fifth-year interim reviews, special committee visits, and substantive change visits, normally will not alter the specified date for the decennial reaffirmation review. During the fifth-year interim reporting period, a summary of the institution's Quality Enhancement Plan impact report is due as well.<sup>1</sup>

The Purpose for Accreditation

Accreditation is intended to assure constituents and the public of the quality and integrity of higher education institutions and programs, and to help those institutions and programs improve. These outcomes are achieved through rigorous internal and external review processes during which the institution is evaluated against a common set of standards.

When accreditation is awarded to an institution of higher education by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges (SACSCOC), a regional accrediting agency recognized by the United States Department of Education, it means that the institution has following:

- (1) A mission appropriate to higher education;
- (2) Resources, programs, and services sufficient to accomplish and sustain its mission;
- (3) Clearly specified educational objectives that are consistent with its mission and appropriate to the degrees it offers, and that it is; and
- (4) Successful in assessing its achievement of these objectives and demonstrating improvements. Accreditation by SACSCOC is a statement of the institution's continuing commitment to integrity and its capacity to provide effective programs and services based on agreed-upon accreditation standards.<sup>2</sup>

SACSCOC Region and Accrediting Standards

The Department of Education (D.O.E.) duly recognize the Council for Higher Education Accreditation (CHEA) and its members. There are six regional accrediting organizations that the Council for Higher Education Accreditation (CHEA) recognized as their members. They are New England, Middle States, North Central, Northwestern, Southern and Western regional accrediting bodies. Recognition by CHEA affirms that the standards and processes of the accrediting organization are consistent with the academic quality, improvement and accountability expectations that CHEA has established, including the eligibility standard that the majority of institutions or programs each accredits are degree-granting. Department of Education recognize SACSCOC is the regional body for the accreditation of degree-granting higher education institutions in the Southern states. It serves as the common denominator of shared values and practices among the diverse institutions in Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia and Latin America and other international sites approved by the Commission that award associate, baccalaureate, master's, or doctoral degrees.<sup>3</sup>

To gain or maintain accreditation with SACSCOC, an institution must comply with the standards contained in the *Principles of Accreditation: Foundations for Quality Enhancement and with the policies and procedures of the Commission. The Commission applies the requirements of its Principles to all applicant, candidate, and member institutions, regardless of type of institution (public, private for-profit, or private not-for-profit).<sup>4</sup>

Federal Requirement

The U.S. Secretary of Education recognizes accreditation by SACSCOC in establishing the eligibility of higher education institutions to participate in programs authorized under Title IV of the Higher Education Act, as amended, and other federal programs. Through its periodic review of institutions of higher education, the Commission assures the public that it is a reliable authority on the quality of education provided by its member institutions.

The federal statute includes mandates that the Commission review an institution in accordance with criteria outlined in the federal regulations developed by the U.S. Department of Education. As part of the review process, institutions are required to document compliance with those criteria and the Commission is obligated to consider such compliance when the institution is reviewed for initial membership or continued accreditation.

Implicit in every federal requirement mandating a policy or procedure is the expectation that the policy or procedure is in writing and has been approved through appropriate institutional processes, published in appropriate institutional documents accessible to those affected by the policy or procedure, and implemented and enforced by the institution.<sup>5</sup>

In addition, all standards are associated with other standards and should be given appropriate review when responding to “Principles”. Notwithstanding, institutions that do not demonstrate that they meet accreditation standards may be asked for monitoring reports, placed on the public sanctions of “Warning” or “Probation”, or dropped from status as a candidate or an accredited institution. (For additional information, please visit SACSCOC’s website for “Sanctions, Denial of Reaffirmation, and Removal from Membership.”)<sup>6</sup> The philosophy here is that institutions of higher learning seeking or reaffirming their accreditation naturally believe in the idea of self-rule. It is this embodiment that self-rule or self-government of a collective body of free thinkers can and should govern themselves through a rigorous and well-structured internal and external control systems. The Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges (SACSCOC) promotes this very idea in their words saying,

“Self-regulation through accreditation embodies a philosophy that a free people can and ought to govern themselves through a representative, flexible, and responsive system. Decentralization of authority honors the rich diversity of educational institutions in our pluralistic society and serves to protect both institutional autonomy and the broader culture of academic freedom in our global society. The empowerment flowing from self-regulation promotes both innovation and accountability in achieving the goals of educating and training citizens in a representative democracy. Consistent with these overarching values, accreditation is best accomplished through a voluntary association of educational institutions. Both a process and a product, accreditation relies on integrity; thoughtful and principled professional judgment; rigorous application of requirements; and a context of trust. The process provides an assessment of an institution’s effectiveness in the fulfillment of its self-defined mission; its compliance with the requirements of its accrediting association; and its continuing efforts to enhance the quality of student learning and its programs and services. Based on rigorous analysis and reasoned judgment, the process stimulates evaluation and improvement, while providing a means of continuing accountability to the institutions’ stakeholders and to the public.”<sup>7</sup>

Continuing accountability is the thread that assures those who set out to earn a college education can know that their academic program has been vetted for quality, rigorousness, and adherence to a common core of educational standards. SACSCOC believes accreditors can and must hold institutions accountable for outcomes, such as graduation rates. However, in reason SACSCOC takes into account that a majority of their credited institutions have a large number of transfer students that the Department of Education does not factor into the equation of “first-term, full-time students”. Therefore, “SACSCOC takes a closer look at institution outcome metrics including – enrollment, completion rates,

It is our hope that this assessment guide will add clarity of the many diverse and moving parts of research, planning and assessment here at Savannah State University (SSU).

Over the next, sixteen months the office of Institutional Research, Planning and Assessment (IRPA) will lead Savannah State University through the Reaffirmation of Accreditation process. Which requires SSU to submit our Compliance Certification and the Quality Enhancement Plan (QEP) self-studies. These two documents are SSU’s comprehensive compliance audit and enhancement plan that will demonstrate that we have assessed all of our programs and courses that we offered to students’ on-campus and off-campus, and those offered through distance learning. The Compliance Certification must be signed by the institution’s chief executive officer and accreditation liaison, attesting to the institution’s honest assessment of compliance with the accreditation requirements of the Commission on Colleges (including all Standards in the Principles of Accreditation) as applied to all aspects of the institution.

In so doing, this past fall 2018 SACSCOC published their new standards of the Principles of Accreditation that all member institutions must respond to through the submission of our compliance audit called the “Compliance Certification”.

Upon your examination of this guide, we hope that you will find the SACSCOC and the University System of Georgia’s Comprehensive Program Review (CPR) information beneficial and educational.

Next, you will find SACSCOC new standards listed by name and referenced by total number of subsections and mini-subsections that will make up the writing of the Compliance Certification on the next page.

SACSCOC 14 Sections of the Principles of Accreditation

The process for initial and continued accreditation involves a collective analysis and judgment by the institution's internal constituencies, an informed review by peers external to the institution, and a reasoned decision by the elected members of the Commission on Colleges' Board of Trustees. The Commission evaluates an institution and makes accreditation decisions based on the following:

A unit which is located in a state or country outside the geographic jurisdiction of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools and which the Commission determines should be separately accredited or the institution requests to be separately accredited, applies for separate accreditation from the regional accrediting association that accredits colleges in that state or country. Implementation: If, during its review of the institution, the Commission determines that an extended unit is sufficiently autonomous to the extent that the parent campus has little or no control, the Commission will use this policy to recommend separate accreditation of the extended unit. ## Responding to the Principles of Accreditation Standards

One area of the reaffirmation process is the University's respond to all of SACSCOC's published standards that covers both academic teaching and learning as well as campus facilities and finances. This document is call "Compliance Certification", which is the document completed by the institution to demonstrate its compliance with Core Requirements, Comprehensive Standards, and Federal Requirements standards recently mention in this guide.

Once this document is completed, it will follow a review and approval process that includes the University System of Georgia (USG) central office. This document will have two signatures of the Chief Executive Officer and the Accreditation Liaison attesting to the institution's honest, forthright, and comprehensive institutional analysis and the accuracy and completeness of its findings. Once the document is approved by USG, it is then forwarded to SACSCOC's Off-Site Reaffirmation Committee and to the institution's Commission staff representative.

Those executive leaders who will be assigned several standards to research, analyze and write a compelling narrative of Savannah State University's compliance, must have a working knowledge of the below four (4) subject areas that must be weaved through each assigned standard(s) of their responses:

- (1) Institutional mission, governance, and effectiveness;
- (2) Programs academic and support outcomes for students;
- (3) Resources that are available, equitable and of high quality; and
- (4) Institutional responsibility for Commission policies. The Comprehensive Standards are more specific to the operations of the institution, represent good practice in higher education, and establish a level of accomplishment expected of all member institutions.

Also, assigned writers must familiarize themselves with SACSCOC sections of standards that have high returns of findings and would require a Monitoring Report for further clarification of the institution's compliance. One of those sections is "Section 8" called Student Achievement.

SACSCOC Section 8 Student Achievement: A Critical Standard

If an institution is judged to be significantly out of compliance with one or more of the Comprehensive Standards, its reaffirmation of accreditation may be denied.

Section 8: Student Achievement

Student learning and student success are at the core of the mission of all institutions of higher learning. Effective institutions focus on the design and improvement of educational experiences to enhance student learning and support student learning outcomes for its educational programs. To meet the goals of educational programs, an institution provides appropriate academic and student services to support student success.

1. The institution identifies, evaluates, and publishes goals and outcomes for student achievement appropriate to the institution's mission, the nature of the students it serves, and the kinds of programs offered. The institution uses multiple measures to document student success. (Student achievement) [CR].
2. The institution identifies expected outcomes, assesses the extent to which it achieves these outcomes, and provides evidence of seeking improvement based on analysis of the results in the areas below:
  - a. Student learning outcomes for each of its educational programs. (Student outcomes: educational programs);
  - b. Student learning outcomes for collegiate-level general education competencies of its undergraduate degree programs. (Student outcomes: general education)
  - c. Academic and student services that support student success. (Student outcomes: academic and student services)

Rationale and Notes for Section 8

Student learning and student success are at the core of the mission of all institutions of higher learning. Effective institutions focus on the design and improvement of educational experiences to enhance student learning and support student learning outcomes for its educational programs. To meet the goals of educational programs, an institution provides appropriate academic and student services to support student success.

An institution needs to be able to document its success with respect to student achievement. In doing so, it may use a broad range of criteria to include, as appropriate: enrollment data; retention, graduation, or course completion; job placement rates; state licensing examinations; student portfolios; or other means of demonstrating achievement of goals.

Note the three related obligations of the institution, in order to meet this standard are:

- Student achievement goals (target levels of performance) must be identified;
- Data for student achievement must be presented and evaluated (outcomes); and
- Both the goals and the outcomes must be published.

For purposes of this standard, “multiple measures” refers to several distinct outcomes, not multiple ways of measuring the same outcome. Being published means in a way accessible to the public—not published only behind an internal firewall. The standard recognizes that not every institution will utilize the same goals or establish the same targets. For example, an open-admissions institution would generally have a lower target for undergraduate graduation rates than a highly selective institution.

An institution that prepares students for transfer to other institutions may use National Student Clearinghouse data for graduation rates while an institution that has little transfer activity might prefer to use IPEDS data. A seminary and an institute of technology may well define job placement “in the field of study” in very different ways.

In some cases, institutions may use local data that can only be benchmarked against itself, such as a locally created alumni survey. Nonetheless, every institution has an obligation to establish goals, collect data, and publish this information. In accord with federal regulations, it is expected that the institution will demonstrate its success with respect to student achievement and indicate the criteria and thresholds of acceptability used to determine that success.

The criteria are the items to be measured (and published); the thresholds of acceptability are the minimal expectations set by the institution to define its own acceptable level of achievement (i.e., a minimum target). The institution is responsible justifying both the criteria it utilizes and the thresholds of acceptability it sets. The items measured and the thresholds of acceptability should be consistent with the institution’s mission and the students it serves.

In their reviews, SACSCOC committees will examine and analyze:

- (1) Documentation demonstrating success with respect to student achievement;
- (2) The appropriateness of criteria and thresholds of acceptability used to determine Student Achievement; and
- (3) Whether the data and other information to document student achievement is appropriately published

While this standard does not ask what the institution does when it finds it falls short of its own expectations, institutions not meeting their self-identified thresholds of performance would be expected to document efforts to meet expectations. [See especially Standard 7.1 (Institutional planning), as well as Standard 7.2 (Quality Enhancement Plan), Standard 8.2.a (Student outcomes: educational programs), Standard 8.2.b (Student outcomes: general education), and Standard 8.2.c (Student outcomes: academic and student services)].

Questions to Consider Regarding Section 8

- How does the institution determine appropriate measurable goals and outcomes for student achievement consistent with its mission?
- Does a state board or specialized accreditor expect certain student achievement rates that would be relevant for this standard?
- Are data sources for this information clearly identified?
- If the institution does not use examples of criteria mentioned above, what are the criteria used and why are they appropriate?
- Are both criteria and thresholds of acceptability clearly identified?
- Can the institution justify both criteria and thresholds of acceptability that would be found acceptable by a reasonable external party?
- How does the institution publish this information for the public? Sample Documentation
- Published evidence containing tables, charts, and/or narrative that include criteria, thresholds of acceptability, and findings related to student achievement.
- Discussion of the underlying rationale for the chosen criteria and thresholds in relation to the institution’s mission.
- Data underlying the findings.<sup>9</sup>

Sample Documentation for Section 8

- Published evidence containing tables, charts, and/or narrative that include criteria, thresholds of acceptability, and findings related to student achievement.
- Discussion of the underlying rationale for the chosen criteria and thresholds in relation to the institution’s mission.
- Data underlying the findings.

SACSCOC Standards by Section with Table Description

This table describes the meaning of each column of the table on page 36. You can revert to this page to ascertain the purpose of each column of the SACSCOC Reaffirmation Tables of Standards starting on the next page.

Meaning of the Columns in the Chart
Column 1	The number of the standard (or named substandard) of the Principles of Accreditation .
Column 2	The descriptor for the standard.
Column 3	Standards that are Core Requirements (see glossary).
Column 4	Standards that are part of the Fifth-Year Interim Report.
Column 5	Standards that are part of the application for institutions seeking membership (candidacy status and initial accreditation). This does not apply to institutions seeking separate accreditation from a current member institution.
Column 6	Standards that will be reviewed on-site regardless of the off-site finding. This is either due to the standard being a federal requirement of recognized accreditors, or because the standard was not reviewed by the Off-Site Reaffirmation Committee (in the case of the QEP).
Column 7	Standards that require a published institutional policy or procedure. Narratives in the body of the Resource Manual will cite the SACSCOC good practices statement Developing Policy and Procedures Documents .  Note. Implicit in every standard mandating a policy or procedure is the expectation that the policy or procedure is in writing and has been approved through appropriate institutional processes, published in appropriate institutional documents, accessible to those affected by the policy or procedure, and implemented and enforced by the institution. At the time of review, an institution will be expected to demonstrate that it has met all of the above elements. If the institution has had no cause to apply its policy, it should indicate that an example of implementation is unavailable because there has been no cause to apply it.
Column 8	Standards that are related to a SACSCOC Policy Statement

Qualified, effective faculty members are essential to carrying out the mission of the institution and ensuring the quality and integrity of its academic programs. The tradition of shared governance within American higher education recognizes the importance of both faculty and administrative involvement in the approval of educational programs. Because student learning is central to the institution's mission and educational degrees, the faculty is responsible for directing the learning enterprise, including overseeing and coordinating educational programs to ensure that each contains essential curricular components, has appropriate content and pedagogy, and maintains discipline currency. Achievement of the institution's mission with respect to teaching, research, and service requires a critical mass of qualified full-time faculty to provide direction and oversight of the academic programs. Due to this significant role, it is imperative that an effective system of evaluation be in place for all faculty members that addresses the institution's obligations to foster intellectual freedom of faculty to teach, serve, research, and publish.

An institutional planning and effectiveness process involves all programs, services, and constituencies. It reflects and affirms a commitment to enhance overall institutional quality and effectiveness by focusing on an issue the institution considers important to improving student learning outcomes and/or student success.

These academic policies lead to a teaching and learning environment that enhances the achievement of student outcomes and success. To advance learning, all coursework taken for academic credit has rigor, substance, and standards connected to established learning outcomes. Student success is significantly affected by the learning environment. An effective institution provides appropriate academic and student support programs and services, consistent with the institution's mission, that enhance the educational and personal development experience(s) of students at all levels; contribute to the achievement of teaching and learning outcomes; ensure student success in meeting the goals of the educational programs; and provide an appropriate range of support services and programs to students at all locations. An institution is responsible for representing accurately to the public its status and relationship with SACSCOC; reporting accurately to the public its status with state or the federal government, if receiving funding from either or both; maintaining openness in all accreditation-related activities; ensuring the availability of institutional policies to students and the public; and publishing appropriate information with respect to student achievement. SACSCOC's philosophy of accreditation precludes removal from or denial of membership or candidacy to a degree-granting institution of higher education on any ground other than an institution's failure to meet the standards of the membership as determined by the professional judgment of peer reviewers, or failure to comply with SACSCOC policies and procedures.

II. SSU Assessment Process and Cycle

The assessment process for educational programs at Savannah State University guides Faculty, Program Coordinators, Department Chairs, and Deans in the systematic evaluation of all program and student learning outcomes in alignment with SSU's mission, vision, goals, and institutional learning outcomes. The aim is the constant improvement of the academic programs and student learning at our institution, based on principles of shared governance, participative management, and transparency.

What is assessment?

"...a systematic way of paying attention to our curriculum."
Source: Nancy Metz, English Faculty, Virginia Tech

"...the systematic gathering of information about student learning, using the time, resources, and expertise available, in order to improve the learning." Source: Barbara Walvoord, Assessment Clear & Simple (2004)

"Assessment is an integral part of instruction, as it determines whether or not the goals of education are being met. Assessment affects decisions about grades, placement, advancement, instructional needs, curriculum, and, in some cases, funding.

Assessment inspires us to ask these hard questions: 'Are we teaching what we think we are teaching?' 'Are students learning what they are supposed to be learning?' 'Is there a way to teach the subject better, thereby promoting better learning?'" Source: www.edutopia.org/assessment-guide-importance.

"...the process of gathering and discussing information from multiple and diverse sources in order to develop a deep understanding of what students know, understand, and can do with their knowledge as a result of their educational experiences; the process culminates when assessment results are used to improve subsequent learning." Source: Mary E. Huba & Jann E. Freed, Learner-Centered Assessment on College Campuses (2000)

An Institution's assessment process speaks to its integrity, which is essential to the purpose of higher education. Integrity functions as the basic covenant defining the relationship between the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges (SACSCOC) and its member and candidate institutions. The principle serves as the foundation of a relationship in which all parties agree to deal honestly and openly with their constituencies and with one another. Those words are the gold standard of any institution's reaffirmation of its accreditation. Next is SSU's 2019-2020 assessment and planning process illustrated from beginning to end.

The I. E. Assessment and Planning Cycle

ACADEMIC PROGRAMS & SUPOORT UNITS

Academic programs at SSU work through the below assessment model, that links their programs to the University's mission, vision, and strategic priorities.

Academic Programs Assessment Model

Assessment Process at Savannah State University: In Greater Detail

Institutional Effectiveness is an established culture in which university officials demonstrate how well they succeed in accomplishing the institution's mission and meet goals. These measures are overtly expressed in the new SACSCOC criteria of 7.1 (Institutional Planning). Institutional effectiveness, research, planning, and assessment process allows University officials to choose expected outcomes based on a self-identified mission.

Faculty and administrators develop mission statements for each academic program and administrative unit, which are derived from the University's mission statement. Then program and expected outcomes are defined and reported in an annual Institutional Effectiveness Plan that is used also to write the program's Annual Report.

The institution's leadership drives the assessment process through a reciprocal engagement that includes the Provost, Deans, Department Chairs, Program Coordinators, Faculty and Students. At each level of the assessment process, communication channels are robust and critical to the required engagement that each leader will value and appreciate.

In greater detail and in accordance to SACSCOC Standard regarding section 8, student learning and student success are at the core of the mission of all institutions of higher learning. Effective institutions focus on the design and improvement of educational experiences to enhance student learning and support student learning outcomes for its educational programs.

To meet the goals of educational programs, an institution provides appropriate academic and student services to support student success. In so doing, all academic programs will achieve the following:

1. The institution identifies, evaluates, and publishes goals and outcomes for student achievement appropriate to the institution's mission, the nature of the students it serves, and the kinds of programs offered. The institution uses multiple measures to document student success. (Student achievement); and
2. The institution identifies expected outcomes, assesses the extent to which it achieves these outcomes, and provides evidence of seeking improvement based on analysis of the results in the areas below:
  - a. Student learning outcomes for each of its educational programs. (Student outcomes: educational programs);
  - b. Student learning outcomes for collegiate-level general education competencies of its undergraduate degree programs. (Student outcomes: general education); and
  - c. Academic and student services that support student success. (Student outcomes: academic and student services). See the following page for our reciprocal flow of engagement.

The Responsibility of Assessment is “Ours”

There is an over use cliché that says, “Team work makes the dream work”. However, in many cases it is true, teamwork allows us the sense that we are not alone in achieving our institutional priorities and objectives. Conversely, our “Road to Reaffirmation” will take the entire SSU community doing the work of researching, analyzing, recommending and writing narratives that are compelling with documentary evidence that supports our compliance of the standards.

Yet, there are departmental responsibilities that the following areas of leadership must undertake:

A. Institutional Research, Planning and Assessment Office (IRPA) Responsibilities

1.	Ensures SSU meets all standards for regional accreditation (Regional Accreditation Body: SACSCOC), by articulating standards of assessment which must be met in both university and program assessment efforts and ensuring that all departmental assessment efforts clearly demonstrate that they are meeting these standards
2.	Reviews assessment reports and indicates which program assessment efforts are meeting university and accreditation standards and, if standards are not met, identifies specific deficiencies and reports these to the appropriate department, college/school Dean or division head, and to the IRPA Director and Associate Provost.
3.	Provides consultation to help programs develop and implement an assessment plan that meets the required standards.
4.	Supports the integration of systems through which assessment data can be gathered and analyzed, including surveys, online course assessment systems, learning management systems and/or ePortfolio systems.
5.	Maintains a repository of assessment data and assessment reports so that the university can provide evidence of systematic and comprehensive assessment of academic programs.
6.	Develops and maintains reports tracking the performance of systematic assessment across all academic programs and the level of student achievement of university learning outcomes.
7.	Provides assessment training and consultancy to Faculty, Program Coordinators, Department Chairs, Deans, and Provost, in partnership with the Center for Faculty Excellence. Training examples: Assessment Process at SSU, Assessment Plan, Assessment Report, Curriculum Map, Rubrics, Syllabus and Assignments Design, and Campus Labs, developed by the Institutional Research, Planning and Assessment Office (IRPA) and the Center for Academic Success (CFAS).
8.	Supports the Provost coordinating Faculty, Department Chairs and Deans’ assessment tasks and deadlines

B. Provost/Associate Provost Responsibilities

1.	Develops SSU Academic Strategic Plan, based on SSU Strategic Plan and SSU Student Learning Goals.
2.	Presents and discusses the SSU Strategic Plan and SSU Academic Strategic Plan with the Deans, reinforcing the institutional mission, goals and student learning outcomes for the current and upcoming academic years.
3.	Reviews/discusses the College Strategic Plans developed by the Deans
4.	Reviews/discusses the summary/presentation/reports developed by the Deans.
5.	Approves the reports/summary/presentation developed by the Deans.
6.	Analyzes information, develops presentation/summary/report reflecting all Colleges/SSU student learning scenario, provides improvement recommendations, and shares results with the Executive Leadership Council, Deans, and IRPA.
7.	Respects and enforces assessment deadlines.

C. College's Dean Responsibilities

1.	Develops a Strategic Plan for the College/School/Library, including mission, goals, and Program Student Learning Goals. Note: the plan needs to be aligned with SSU Strategic Plan, SSU Academic Strategic Plan and the SSU Student Learning Goals).
2.	Shares and discusses SSU Strategic Plan, SSU Academic Strategic Plan, Institutional Student Learning Goals, and the College Strategic Plan with the Department Chairs and Program Coordinators.
3.	Gives support to the Department Chairs and Program Coordinators in terms of assessment
4.	Reviews plans and reports (related Program Outcomes and Program Student Learning Outcomes) developed by the Department Chairs and Program Coordinators.
5.	Develops a summary/presentation reflecting all programs of the College/School/Library and attaches the Department Chairs and Program Coordinators reports to it.
6.	Submits the College summary/presentation and Department Chair Reports to the Provost, and shares results with Department Chair, Program Coordinators, and IRPA.
7.	Respects and enforces assessment deadlines.

D. Department Chair Responsibilities

1.	Department chairs should ensure that all programs are developing assessment plans and reports in accordance with the scheduled assessment cycle.
2.	Chairs should also ensure that the appropriate digital tools are being used to store assessment data/artifacts, plans, and reports, so that these documents/artifacts will be available for future faculty and leadership.
3.	Chairs should ensure that all faculty are participating in the assessment process. Manage and oversee Coordinators and faculty of programs within their purview.
4.	Chairs should assist Program Coordinators in conducting regular program review since this may involve funding, travel, or networking.
5.	Chairs will ensure that all appropriate information from the administration is conveyed to coordinators and faculty about the assessment process, including scheduled assessment cycle, ISLOs, and due dates for plans and reports.

E. Program Coordinator Responsibilities

1.	Coordinators will ensure that the program is assessed according to a regularly scheduled assessment cycle of data collection during the semester, review of data at the end of the semester, and plan for the next semester at the end of the semester.
2.	Coordinators will ensure that all Program Student Learning Outcomes (PSLOs) will be assessed twice in each 3 year assessment cycle. Note: it is preferable to assess each PSLO 3 times in each cycle to obtain a baseline, an intervention, and a test of the efficacy of the intervention over time.
3.	Over the course of the assessment cycle, Coordinators will ensure that all appropriate, data-driven changes are made to the curriculum, PSLOs, curriculum maps, and all assessment tools.
4.	Coordinators will ensure that all appropriate documents are generated and stored in Campus Labs the University's Assessment Management System (AMS) so department, college, and university leadership (must have authorized permission) will have access to them. Also, digital storage of the documents ensures that future faculty and leadership will have access to them.
5.	All assessment artifacts should be stored digitally in the Learning Management System (LMS) for future use. Coordinators will work with faculty to facilitate student use of the LMS and the AMS.
6.	Over the course of a 3 year cycle (data collection years 2017-2018, 2018-2019, and 2019-2020) programs should generate 3 Institutional Effectiveness Plans (I.E. Plans) and 3 Program Annual Reports. The I. E.

	Plans and Annual Reports will assist the program faculty in making the appropriate changes to the curriculum and the assessment tools used to measure the learning outcomes
7.	Plans will include student learning expectations, which are set in accordance with a curriculum map. They will also include targets for overall student performance to be reviewed at the end of the semester after assessing the data.
8.	Reports will include all assessment of the data collected, including a determination of whether targets were met and whether changes need to be made to the curriculum or the assessment process.
9.	Coordinators will ensure that Program Outcomes are developed and assessed on a yearly basis. Program Outcomes set the goals for the program not to include student learning outcomes. Program Outcomes may include goals such as enrollment, graduation rates, etc.
10.	Coordinators will ensure that program meeting agendas and minutes are generated and stored in Campus Labs.
11.	All PSLOs should be aligned with Institutional Student Learning Outcomes (ISLOs) to assist the administration of the university with assessment. The alignment of the PSLOs with the ISLOs should be communicated to the Institutional Assessment Committee via the Campus Labs.
12.	Coordinators should note that not all PSLOs will align with an ISLO, so there is no expectation that all ISLOs will be assessed through a single program's assessment.

Faculty (All Levels) Responsibilities

1.	Attends a required training related to the Assessment Process at SSU, Assessment Plan, Assessment Report, Curriculum Map, Rubrics, Syllabus and Assignments Design, and Campus Labs, developed by the Institutional Research, Planning and Assessment Office (IRPA) and the Center for Academic Faculty Excellence (CFAS)
2.	Develops a Syllabus for each class a faculty member teaches, includes content, goals and the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>a. Class Student Learning Outcomes - CSLOs,</li> <li>b. Program Student Learning Outcomes - PSLOs, and</li> <li>c. Institutional Student Learning Outcomes—ISLOs, instruments used to measure the CSLOs, and target levels.</li> </ul>
3.	Develops assignments for students
4.	Requests students upload their assignments on D2L and Campus Labs
5.	Note: Student work must be uploaded to D2L and Campus Labs
6.	It is recommended that students upload their own work, so faculty members do not need to do it
7.	Selects one key assignment per class to be assessed (if several sections are taught by the same faculty member, select just one assignment of one section to represent the course)

8.	Develops a rubric to assess the key assignment in accordance with CSLOs, PSLOs, and ISLOs.
9.	Note: The IRPA team will include the rubrics on Campus Labs.
10.	Assesses the key assignment through Campus Labs (according to the rubrics already available in Campus Labs).
11.	Participates in assessment meetings to discuss their students performance and strategies for improvement.
12.	Uses the Syllabus and the Assessment Plan and Report as tools for class and student learning improvement: implements the improvement actions and evaluates them in the upcoming semester, following the same process as previously described.
13.	Respects and enforces assessment deadlines.

SSU have established an internal assessment submission process and timeline for all academic programs and non-academic support units as it relates to their Institutional Effectiveness Plan (I.E. Plan) and the Program Annual Report. IRPA also, have established a one-stop shop of the University System of Georgia's Comprehensive Program Review (CPR) on our webpage.<sup>10</sup> This external assessment process for all undergraduate and graduate majors must be reviewed every seven and ten years respectively. To that end, this guide will now speak to the many moving parts of the USG's Comprehensive Program Review.

III. SSU Comprehensive Program Review (CPR)

University Systems of Georgia (USG)

Each USG institution shall conduct comprehensive academic program reviews for Career Associates, Associate degrees with a designated major, bachelor degrees and graduate degrees.

Consistent with efforts in institutional effectiveness and strategic planning, each USG institution shall develop procedures to evaluate the effectiveness of its academic programs to address the quality, viability, and productivity of efforts in teaching and learning, scholarship, and service as appropriate to the institution's mission.

Institutional review of academic programs shall involve analysis of both quantitative and qualitative data, and institutions must demonstrate that they make judgments about the future of academic programs within a culture of evidence. Planning and conducting of academic program reviews shall be used for the progressive improvement and adjustment of programs in the context of the institution's strategic plan and in response to findings and recommendations of the reviews. Adjustment may include program enhancement, maintenance at the current level, reduction in scope, or, if fully justified, consolidation or termination.

USG Academic Programs Policy Sect. 2.3

An institution's cycle of review for all undergraduate academic programs shall be no longer than seven (7) years, and for all graduate programs no longer than ten (10) years. Newly approved programs should automatically be reviewed seven years after launch. If successfully reviewed, the new program will then become part of the regular institutional cycle. If unsuccessful, the institution will present a plan of action to the System Office. Programs accredited by external entities may not substitute an external review for institutional program review, but material submitted as part of an external accreditation process may be used in the institutional review. Institutions may align program review cycles with required external accreditation review, so long as no program review cycle at any level exceeds ten (10) years. Institutions must also review General Education every five (5) years; learning outcomes for each Area A-E of institutional core curricula must be approved by the Council on General Education. Institutions are also encouraged to review Learning Support programs.

Each USG institution shall provide a web link outlining institutional comprehensive program review procedures and shall post program review results on a password protected institutional web site, which shall include the institutional review cycle and a summary of current institutional reviews.

Academic Affairs staff will perform spot audits on the posted institutional comprehensive program reviews to ensure that reviews are being used to inform institutional decision-making on the issues of program quality, productivity and viability. The System Office staff will continue to provide data on programs with low enrollment for institutional information.

CPR and Deans, Department Chairs and Program Coordinators

When academic programs reach their University System of Georgia’s assessment year, all Program Coordinators are expected to conduct Comprehensive Program Review by following the instructions cited under the tab “Comprehensive Program Review (CPR)” located on IRPA’s web page. Since this will likely involve funding, Department Chairs will help facilitate program reviews. The Comprehensive Program Review Report should be stored with all other assessment reports in Campus Labs. For more detailed information Program Coordinators should review the IRPA’s webpage under the tab, “Comprehensive Program Review (CPR)”. There you will find all the steps to perform an exhaustive report.<sup>11</sup> Also, middle managers may need to review further the role of hiring adequate number of faculty to teach as well as maintaining the proper level of resources to achieve their program and student learning outcomes. One method is “Full-time Equivalent” calculation.

SSU Assessment Management Software: Campus Labs

An integrated platform:

The Campus Labs’ platform provides users to warehouse their required assessment processes and analysis to experience and reveal actionable insights for the improvement of student learning and support outcomes. It is a centralized hub for a holistic view of our campus assessment programs and procedures, so we can collect and connect our data and then explore the right questions. Whether the goal is meaningful reporting for accreditation, a more precise way to predict retention, or innovative tools for student engagement, Campus Labs’ platform gives educators the power to extract valuable insights about our institution’s effectiveness.

IV. SSU and Assessment Collective Responsibility

SSU Accreditation Liaison

The Reaffirmation Process is Not Completed by our SACSCOC Accreditation Liaison. This process is the collective responsibility of our entire university community. The role of the Accreditation Liaison is to provide expert guidance to Senior Leadership Council of SSU, serve as the go-between with SACSCOC and to facilitate our completion of the reaffirmation of our accreditation process successfully.<sup>12</sup>

Our President is the supreme driver of the University's successful march towards reaffirming the compliance of all 14 sections, 59 subsection and 70 mini-subsections of the Principles of Accreditation standards under the direction of our accreditation agency SACSCOC.

The President's responsibility is not isolated; it is a shared cause towards achieving academic excellence that is supported and driven as well by our Executive and Senior Leadership administrators. Our faculty and staff are charged to research, collect the specific data per the assigned standard, analyze the data, make recommendation about the data to leadership and assist in the narrative writing of the standard. In narrating the writing, we all have the responsibility to make the case in a compelling argument with documentary evidence that SSU is in compliance with the assigned standard.

Culture of Assessment at SSU

Consider "Academic Program Assessment" of the Principles as an example:

The Principles' states, "The institution identifies expected outcomes, assesses the extent to which it achieves these outcomes, and provides evidence of seeking improvement based on analysis of the results in the areas below:"

- Student learning outcomes for each educational program."
- We must demonstrate our compliance with the Principle for each one of our educational programs (each bachelor degree, each associates degree, and each certificate program).
- A cookie cutter approach simply will not work.

Compliance requires identified outcomes and assessment of each outcome at the program level for each program (not just course level). It requires evidence over an extended period of time (multiple academic years), and it requires evidence of analysis and evidence that we have taken the results seriously (closing the loop).

At some institutions hiring a “Consultant” to write and edit the standards has been an option for them. But, consider these questions:

1. If assessment is something that is done by someone else (e.g., SSU’ Institutional Research, Planning and Assessment (IRPA)) (not you), is it really possible for that hired Consultant (not an expert in your field of study) to really understand what a graduate of your program should know and be able to do (outcomes)?;
2. Is it really possible for that Consultant to evaluate attainment of those outcomes (in a range of programs at SSU from languages to social sciences to hard sciences)?; and
3. Is it possible for that Consultant to analyze results and decide what is needed to improve in such diverse areas?

The obvious answers are “no” “no” and “no”

A Culture of Assessment is essential in meeting the requirements of the Principles of Accreditation. Moreover, we must approach this with the same exactitude and intellectual inquisitiveness as applies in our own teaching and research. In short, we assess because we believe it’s inherent value – not because we are required to do so.

Suggested Writing Approach of the Principles

Start Now

- Consider this principle (a core requirement) as an example:
  - “The institution engages in ongoing, comprehensive, and integrated research-based planning and evaluation processes that (a) focus on institutional quality and effectiveness and (b) incorporate a systematic review of institutional goals and outcomes consistent with its mission. (Institutional Planning) [CR]”.
- Break the principle into its components – each component must be separately addressed:
  - Ongoing
  - Comprehensive
  - Integrated
  - Research based
  - Focuses on institutional quality and effectiveness
  - Institutional goals and outcomes incorporated into the process
  - Process carried out in a manner consistent with institutional mission

Documentary Evidence

1. Methodically collect documentary evidence of the college's compliance with this Principle;
2. Organize an outline of a response with a separate heading for each element (see above) of that Principle;
3. Write a response which separately addresses how EGSC, as an institution with a unique access mission, complies with each element of that principle;
4. If you make an assertion in your response, include evidence of that assertion with your response;
5. If your evidence includes a college policy or procedure, simply including that policy or procedure as evidence is not enough;
6. Provide evidence that the policy or procedure is
  - a. Published; and
  - b. Actually applied on a regular basis.

Assessment Glossary

Accreditation Committee: The Accreditation Committee visits a candidate institution or an institution seeking separate accreditation to verify compliance with all standards in the Principles of Accreditation (except for Standard 7.2 [Quality Enhancement Plan]). The candidate institution is seeking renewal of candidate status or initial membership. An institution may remain in candidacy status for a maximum of four years.

Accreditation Contact: The Accreditation Contact is the member of the applicant institution's Leadership Team who works closely with SACSCOC staff during review of the application for membership and with the Chair of the Candidacy Committee to prepare for the institution's first on-site review.

Accreditation Liaison: Each candidate and member institution appoints an Accreditation Liaison to serve as the resource person on campus for SACSCOC accreditation questions and as an institutional contact person for SACSCOC personnel. (A complete description of the responsibilities of the Accreditation Liaison is available at www.sacscoc.org under Institutional Resources.)

Adverse Action: The Commission defines four actions made by the SACSCOC Board of Trustees as adverse actions: (1) Denial of Candidacy for Initial Accreditation, (2) Removal from Candidacy for Initial Accreditation, (3) Denial of Initial Membership, and (4) Removal from Membership. All four actions are appealable.

Alignment: The process of linking content and performance standards to assessment, instruction, and learning.

Analytics: The transformation of raw data into actionable information by analyzing various data points to gain insight and make informed decisions about complex issues.

Assessment: Assessment is an ongoing process aimed at understanding and improving student learning and service delivery.

It involves making our expectations explicit and public; setting appropriate criteria and standards for learning and service quality; systematically gathering, analyzing, and interpreting evidence to determine how well performance matches those expectations and standards; and using the resulting information to document, explain, and improve performance. (adapted from Tom Angelo, 1995)

Assessment Measure: An assessment measure is a data source or tool used to indicate outcome attainment. While it is desirable to use multiple assessment measures over different points in time, each outcome must have at least one assessment measure. Assessment measures for programmatic outcomes may include survey data (e.g., Graduate, Employer, and Transfer Student Surveys), and other routine data reports posted on the IRPA webpage (e.g., headcounts, FTES, graduates). Assessment measures may include direct and/or indirect measures.

Assessment Tools: Assessment tools are the instruments used to gather data about student learning and service delivery. Tools can be both quantitative and qualitative.

Benchmark: A standard, usually showing the best performance possible at a certain time.

Branch Campus: A branch campus is an instructional site located geographically apart and independent of the main campus of the institution. A location is independent of the main campus if the location is (1) permanent in nature; (2) offers courses in educational programs leading to a degree, diploma, certificate, or other recognized educational credential; (3) has its own faculty and administrative or supervisory organization; and (4) has its own budgetary and hiring authority. All branch campuses related to the parent campus through corporate or administrative control must (1) include the name of the parent campus and make it clear that its accreditation is dependent on the continued accreditation of the parent campus and (2) be evaluated during reviews for institutions seeking candidacy, initial membership, or reaffirmation of accreditation. (For more information on branch campuses, see SACSCOC Policy Separate Accreditation for Units of a Member Institution.)

Capstone Project: A project planned and carried out by the student during the final semester as the culmination of the educational experience. These projects typically require higher-level thinking skills, problem-solving, creative thinking, and integration of learning from various sources.

Capstone Assessment: Assessment of outcomes structured into learning experiences occurring at the end of a program. The experiences involve demonstration of a comprehensive range of program outcomes through some type of product or performance. The outcomes may be those of the major and of the general education program or of the major only.

Capstone Course: An upper division class designed to help students integrate their knowledge. For assessment purposes student work needs to be evaluated by faculty members responsible for the program, not just the instructor of the course. Capstone experiences and standardized exams are sometimes part of a capstone course.

Capstone Experience: An activity for graduating seniors that is designed to demonstrate comprehensive learning in the major through some type of product or performance.

Case Studies: Detailed analyses of projects or problems that result in exemplary models.

Competitions/Meets: Experiences during which students demonstrate their expertise and are judged or rated by experts in the field while in competition with other students.

Competency Test: A test intended to establish that a student has met established minimum standards of skills and knowledge and is thus eligible for an acknowledgment of achievement such as graduation, certification, etc.

Compliance: A finding of compliance in a report resulting from committee review indicates that an institution has documented that it meets the expectations set forth in a standard or requirement in the Principles of Accreditation. Reports written by committees require judgments about the compliance or noncompliance of the institution with all of the standards relevant to the review; each judgment is summarized in a short narrative that details how the institution meets or fails to meet the standard or requirement. (See Parts III and V of the Handbook for Institutions Seeking Reaffirmation of Accreditation.)

Compliance Components: Embedded in the wording of the standards of the Principles of Accreditation, the compliance components are the multiple discrete issues that must be addressed for each standard. These components are frequently signaled by alphanumeric letter, numbers, commas, and the use of compound modifiers. When writing a narrative for a standard, all compliance components should be addressed.

Comprehensive Standard: Prior to the 2018 edition of the Principles of Accreditation, some standards were identified as Comprehensive Standards. This distinction was removed in the 2018 edition.

Course-Embedded Assessment: Data gathering about learning that occurs as part of the course, such as tests, papers, projects, or portfolios; as opposed to data gathering that occurs outside the course, e.g., student placement testing.

Core Requirements: Basic, broad-based, foundational requirements, the Core Requirements establish a threshold of development required of all institutions seeking initial accreditation or reaffirmation. Core Requirements are designated with a “(CR)” designation following the standard, and are listed in Appendix A of this document.

Credit Hour: For the purpose of accreditation and in accord with federal regulations, a credit hour is an amount of work represented in intended learning outcomes and verified by evidence of student achievement that is an institutionally established equivalency that reasonably approximates (1) not less than one hour of classroom or direct faculty instruction and a minimum of two hours out-of-class student work each week for approximately 15 weeks for one semester or trimester hour of credit, or 10 to 12 weeks for one quarter hour of credit, or the equivalent amount of work over a different amount of time; or (2) at least an equivalent amount of work as required outlined in item 1 above for other academic activities as established by the institution including laboratory work, internships, practica, studio work, and other academic work leading to the award of credit hours. (Further information on the definition of credit hour is available in SACSCOC policy Credit Hours at www.sacscoc.org.)

Denial of Reaffirmation: An institution is denied reaffirmation upon recommendation of the Committee on Compliance and Reports and subsequent action by the SACSCOC Board of Trustees that, during its decennial review, the institution (1) has failed to comply with any of the Core Requirements, (2) demonstrates significant noncompliance with other standards of the Principles, or (3) does not comply with SACSCOC policies. Denial of reaffirmation is accompanied by a sanction. Denial of reaffirmation is not an appealable action. (Further information is available in SACSCOC policy Sanctions, Denial of Reaffirmation, and Removal from Membership at www.sacscoc.org.)

Distance Education: In conjunction with the federal definition, SACSCOC defines distance education as a formal educational process in which the majority of the instruction (interaction between students and instructors and among students) in a course occurs when students and instructors are not in the same place. Instruction may be synchronous or asynchronous. A distance education course may use the Internet; one-way and two-way transmissions through open broadcast, closed circuit, cable, microwave, broadband lines, fiber optics, satellite, or wireless communications devices; audio conferencing; or video cassettes, DVDs, and CD-ROMs, if used as part of the distance learning course or program. (See SACSCOC policy Distance and Correspondence Education at www.sacscoc.org.)

Dual Enrollment Program: A dual-enrollment program (or dual credit program) is one where a high school student earns college credit for courses that also satisfy high school requirements. Higher education institutions awarding college credit to high school students are fully responsible for the quality and integrity of that credit.

Educational Program: An educational program is a coherent set of courses leading to a credential (degree, diploma, or certificate) awarded by the institution.

Executive Council: Composed of thirteen members, the Executive Council is the executive arm of the SACSCOC Board of Trustees and functions on behalf of the Board and the College Delegate Assembly between meetings. (See Appendix E in this Manual. Further information on the composition and selection of the Executive Council and its duties is available in SACSCOC policy Standing Rules: SACSCOC Board of Trustees, Executive Council, and the College Delegate Assembly at www.sacscoc.org.)

Exit Conference: Committee visits end with a brief meeting between the Committee and the institution's leadership, the Exit Conference, at which time the Committee orally presents an overview of its draft report with emphasis on its findings of compliance/noncompliance. (See Part V of the Handbook for Institutions Seeking Reaffirmation of Accreditation.)
